Circular No.1763/34

Bombay Castle, 13th July 1950.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT

Under regulation 11 of the regulations made under Section 266(3) of the Government of India Act, 1935 (vide Government Notification, Political and Services Department, No.1763/34, dated the 1st April 1943) which are now to be deemed to have been made under the provisions of article 320 (3) of the Constitution of India it is not necessary to consult the Commission before Government passes an original order of (a) censure (b) withholding an increment, or promotions, including stoppage at an efficiency bar and (c) placing an officer under suspension. It is possible that some Departmentsof the Secretariat, might have interpreted this regulation to mean that it is not necessary to consult the Commission before Government passes orders, also an an appeal, petition or memorial against such an order. This interpretation is not correct but it is necessary that under the provisions of article 320 (3) (c) of the Constitution of India the Commission should be consulted before Government passes order on such an appeal, petition or memorial. All Departments of the Secretariat are requested to bear this interpretation of the regulation in mind and to consult the Commission on appeals, petitions or memorials submitted against orders passed by Government imposing the penalty of (i) censure (ii) withholding of increment or promotion including stoppage at an efficiency bar or (iii) suspension.

GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY,
Political and Services Department,
Circular No. 1869/34,
Bombay Castle, 16th Agust 1950.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

The Bombay Public Service Commission recently brought to the notice of Government a case in which the Head of a Department, in acting on its advice in a promotion case, issued a warning to this subordinate stating that he was cautioned by the Commission. The advice given by the Commission is confidential except to the extent to which it is required to be communicated to the officer concerned in disciplinary proceedings vide rule 6 of the Bombay Public Service Commission (Functions) Rules, 1947 and it is not correct to disclose its nature. The action of the Head of Department referred to by the Commission was, therefore, objectionable.

All Departments of the Secretariat, and the Heads of Departments are requested to see that they do not refer to the advice given by the Commission in any communication to the officer affected except to the limited extent in disciplinary matters as required under rule 6 of the Bombay Public Service Commission (Functions) Rules.

Communication of the action taken on the .....

GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY,
Political and Services Department,
CIRCULAR No.1869/34,
Bombay Castle, 7th September, 1950.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

According to instruction 8 of the 'Instructions to regulate the procedure to be followed by the Departments of the Secretariat in their dealings with the Bombay Public Service Commission' all Departments of the Secretariat are required to inform the Commission of the action taken on its recommendations. Government has noticed that generally there is considerable delay in taking decisions on the Commission's recommendations and informing it of the decisions with the result that very often the Commission does not know for a very long time what action is taken on its recommendations. Government considers that this is not satisfactory and that the Commission should be informed of the decisions taken on its recommendations within a reasonable time. Accordingly, it is pleased to direct that action on the recommendations of the Commission should be completed within 3 months in cases of direct appointment and 1 month in cases of appointment by promotion of the receipt of the Commission's recommendations and that the Departments should inform the Commissions of the decisions taken within that time. Government is also pleased to direct that in cases involving delay beyond 3 months or 1 month as the case may be the Departments of the Secretariat should inform the Commission under intimation to the Political and Services Department of the reasons for such delay.

Subject:- Appointment to posts within the purview of the Commission.

Reference your letter No.601 (1), dated the 29th June 1950, on the above subject. Government has carefully considered the suggestion made by the Commission for reducing the period prescribed in regulation 1 (b) of the Regulations made under Section 266(3) of the Government of India Act, 1935 but regrets that it is unable to accept the suggestion. The period of one year has been prescribed after taking into consideration all relevant factors like administrative convenience etc. and any reduction in this period is bound to casude much inconvenience and defeat the purpose for which the regulation is made. Commission will also appreciate that the particular regulation has been in force since 1937 and there has been no fresh ground which can necessitate the reduction of the period prescribed therein.

As regards the other suggestions made by the Commission, necessary instructions are being issued to the Departments.

COPY.

Copy of the letter from the Bombay Public Service Commission, No.601(1) dated the 29th June 1950.

I am directed to state that the question of temporary appointments without consultation with the Public Service Commissions was discussed at the Conference of the Chairman of all Public Service Commissions held in New Delhi in December 1949. The General opinion was that temporary appointments without consultation should not be allowed for more than three to six months at the most, according to local conditions and that immediate intimation of all temporary appointments made without consultation should be given to the Commissions. Under regulation 1 (b) of the regulations made under section 266(3) of the Government of India Act, 1935, published in Government notification, Political and Services Department, No.1763/34, dated the 1st April 1943, temprary appointments for a period not exceeding or not likely to exceeding a period of one year may be made without consultation with the Commission. The Commission agree with the view taken by the conference that such temporary appointments should not be allowed for.....

for more than three to six months andaccordingly recommend that the regulations be amended so as to reduce the period allowed therein from one year to six months.

2. The Commission consider that the power to make temporary appointments without consultation should be used only when it is definitely known that there is no likelihood of the appointment continuing longer than the prescribed period. The Commission observe that the power is sometimes used to make appointments wihtout consultation even when such a presumption cannot be made and a reference is made to the Commission when the prescribed period is due to expire or even some time after it has expired. This is the irregular, and steps may be taken to ensure that the proper procedure is followed by the appointing authority.

3. Government has directed in Government endorsement, Political and Services Department, No.2048/34-D, dated the 20th July 1948, and Government Circular. Political and Services Department, 2048/34. dated the 13th June 1949, that the Commission should be kept informed of all cases in which appointments are made without consulting them, with sufficient particulars to enable the Commission to judge whether any breach of the rules has occured. They suggest that instructions may be issued to all concerned to certify, in the case of temporary appointments, that they are not likely to continue beyond the prescribed period.

Need to consult the Bombay Public Service Commission at the proper time regarding appointments lying within its purview.

GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY,
Political and Services Department,
Circular No.2048/34,
Bombay Castle, 20th September 1950.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

In Government Circular, Political and Services Department No.2048/36, dated the 1st December 1947 instructions have been issued to the Departments asking them to consult the Bombay Public Service Commission before appointment to posts lying within its purview which are likely to exceed one year are made and even if on any particular occasions an appointment is to be made urgently in the interests of administration and there is no time to consult the Commission to see that it is consulted without any delay thereafter.

These instructions have also been repeated from time to time in various forms with a view to ensuring that the Departments concerned do consult the Commission at the appropirate time. It is however noticed that despite all thse instructions appointments are continued to be made without consulting the Commission even when it is possible to make them with the prior approval of the Commission. All Departments of the Secretariat are requested to see that such a practice is stopped and that the orders in Government Circular, Political and Services Department No.2048/34, dated the 1st December 1947 are scrupulously followed.

Government has notices that a majority of the cases in which the appointments are made without consulting the Commission are those in which stop gap arrangement is made pending selection of candidate.....

candidate by the Public Service Commission. The practice of making such stop-gap arrangement except when a vacancy occurs suddenly leaving no time to select a candidate through the Public Service Commission is highly objectionable from the point of view of both Government and the Commission. In most of the cases it should be possible for the Secretariat Departments in consultation with the Head of Departments to foresee the occurrance of a vacancy and to make arrangements in advance in consultation with the Public Service Commission to fill it instead of waiting till the last minute to take action in the matter. All Departments of the Secretariat are, therefore, requested to take advance action for filling vacancies the occurance of which can be anticipated, e.g. when an officer is due to retire or when a new post is being created etc. They are requested to issue instructions to the Heads Departments under them to submit proposals for the filling of vacancies which are due to occur on the retirement of an Officer at least six months before the vacancy is due to occur and to see that arrangements to fill the vacancy are completed in consultation with the Commission before the due date.

Secy.

The best remedy for this is to maintain a waiting Lists for promotion is various posts & to revise issue annually (in July or August) on receipt for the annual confdl. reports.

GOVERNMENT CIRCULAR.

It has been brought to the notice of Government that owing to delay on the part of certain Departments, a number of applications of Government servants applying for posts advertises by the Bombay Public Service Commission reach that body long after the last date prescribed for the receipt of the applications. This causes great inconvenience and delay to the Commission. The Officers concerned, should, therefore, see that the applications are forwarded to the Bombay Public Service Commission in due time.

Consulting the Commission regarding .....

Government of Bombay,
Political and Services Department,
Circular No.2048/34
Bombay Castle, 28th November 1950.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

Of late several orders have been issued impressing on the Departments the necessity and desirability of consulting the Public Service Commission in regard to appointments made to posts within its purview at the proper time. Government regrets to notice that despite these orders cases are occuring in which the Public Service Commission is not consulted at the proper time with the result that objection is taken by that body to the procedure adopted by Government in making appointment to posts lying within its purview. All Departments of the Secretariat are requested to see that such cases do not occur in future.

2. The Public Service Commission has brought to the notice of Government a case in which there was considerable delay in making reference to that body and when asked to explain the delay the Department concerned put forth the explanation that the delay was due to the fact that the file in question was under constant submission to other Departments on other points and therefore action in regard to making reference to the Commission was delayed. The Commission has taken strong objection to this explanation and has observed that the explanation shows that less importance is being attached to the requirement about consulting the Commission than to the disposal of other matters. There may be other cases in which the Departments may.....

may unknowingly delay reference to the Commission for similar reasons. Government is therefore pleased to direct that such cases should be avoided and that the Departments concerned should not omit to take a reference to the Commission at the proper time on any ground whatsoever. If points other than making a reference to the Commission arise in any case and if the consideration of other points is likely to delay the reference to the Commission it should be possible for the Departments to make a separate file relating to the question of making the necessary reference to the Commission by taking out relevant copies from the main file. All Departments are therefore requested to see that in no case a reference to the Commission is delayed on any ground and that if it is found that a reference is likely to be delayed because of the need to consider other points they take appropriate steps to avoid the delay.

GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY,

Circular No.7178/46,
Bombay Castle, 12th June 1951.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

It is usual for Government to depute some of its officers for specialised training in particular subjects either abroad or in India itself. The Bombay Public Service Commission had suggested in this connection some time ago that in as much as such specialised training is later made a ground for preference in making appointments by promotion to posts within its purview the selection of officers for training by Government or the Head Of Department in preference to their seniors commits it to acquiesce, in the supersession of the senior officers without having an opportunity of considering their claims on merits and that the Commission should therefore be associated with the selection of officer of specialised training whenever there is a possibility of such training being made a ground for preference in filling higher posts at some future date. Government has carefully considered this suggestion and decided that it should be accepted (except the separate Department) care therefore All Departments of the Secretariat requested to consult the Commission whenever any person under their respective administrative control is to be selected for specialised training if the training is likely to become later a ground for his promotion to a higher post in preference to his seniors. It is possible that it may be difficult to determine definitely at the time a selection is made for deputation.....

deputation of an officer for specialised training whether his training is likely to become later a ground for his promotion in preference to his seniors. TheDepartments are therefore advised to consult the Commission in all cases of such selection except when they are sure that specialised training for which an officer is selected will not be made a ground for further promotion over the heads of his seniors to a post or service within the purview of the Commission.

All Departments of the Secretariat (except the Separate Department) are requested to issue suitable instruction to the Heads of Departments under their respective control who may have occasion to select or recommend officers for specialised training to ensure that the procedure indicated above is properly observed.

"The instructions in paragraph 1 above will not apply to cases of deputation for training under the Technical Assistance Schemes where final selection of officers to be deputed rests with the Government of India or with some international or foreign authorities". inserted vide P.S.D addendum No. 7178/46 dt. 28-10-53, 384/48/12868/.

Copy of the letter from the Secretary, Bombay Public Service Commission, No.83-A, dated the 24th July 1951.

I am directed to state that experience has shown that item 12 in the form requisition for recruitment of candidates appended to Government endorsement, Political and Services Department, No.P. 3920-D, dated the 10th February 1949, requires amplification. As it stands at present the second half.....

half of the item relating to allowances such as house rent, compensatory, travelling allowances, etc., tends to be overlooked and a negative reply is often given to the item of the concession of free quarters is not admissible, even if allowances like dearness allowance, compensatory local allowances, house rent allowance or other allowances are admissible. The Commission, therefore, suggests that for item 12 the following may be substituted:-

"12. Allowances, if any, admissible, e.g. dearness allowance, house rent allowance, compensatory local allowance, coveyance allowance.

12-A. Special concessions, if any, e.g. rent free quarters, light, water , etc."

With reference to Government Circular, Political and Services Department, No.3558/34, dated the 18th September 1950, it has been brought to the notice of Government by the Bombay Public Services Commission that applications of the candidates in Government service still continue to be sent to it after the closing dates for receipt of applications, thus causingit great inconvenience and delaying the work of selection. Government is therefore pleased to direct that the instructions contained in Government Circular, Political and Services Department, No.3558/34, dated the 18th September 1950, should be followed scrupulously and applications of candidates in Government service submitted through proper channels, forwarded to the Commission without delay. In cases where the applications are likely to reach the Commission after the closing dates,owing to late submission of applications by the Candidates themselves, the fact should be indicated in the forwarding endorsement so that the Commission may consider whether or not to consider such applications.
